

TUNGSTENS FOR ALL IF HAYWARD WINS

Commissioner in Move to Have Lighting Companies Furnish Them.

ARE TWICE AS EFFICIENT

In order that the public may get full benefit from the recent reduction in the price of electricity from 10 to 8 cents a kilowatt hour Public Service Commissioner Hayward recommended yesterday that the New York Edison and the United Electric Light and Power companies be ordered to supply their customers with tungsten lamps or others of equal efficiency instead of the carbon filament lamps, which give only half as much light as the tungstens at the same cost. In reporting on his investigation of complaints against the companies Col. Hayward says:

"It has been clearly shown that the lamp art has progressed to a remarkable degree, and there are available, not only through the medium of the companies but by purchase elsewhere in the open market, a class of lamps known as tungsten lamps, with various commercial names, and that in the near future there may be so-called tungsten lamps, even more efficient than the tungsten.

"The record discloses the fact that these tungsten lamps are about twice as efficient as the gem lamps now furnished by the companies in what should be the standard or household sizes. That is to say, the fifty watt gem lamp furnishes no more light than a twenty-five watt tungsten lamp.

"Would the commission then not be remiss in its duty if, knowing this marked difference in efficiency of lamps, it failed to prohibit the furnishing of a grossly inferior lamp, or to require instead the use of the tungsten or other lamp of like high efficiency? While the companies claim they do not actually prevent the use of the tungsten lamps there is no doubt that the present plan of supplying lamps, either under lamp agreement or by purchase, discourages their use, and the consumer in most cases, both literally and figuratively, remains in the dark on the lamp question. It seems to me that the high price charged for the small sizes of tungsten lamps discourages and is meant to discourage the use of these lamps in favor of the old gem lamps, which are much more expensive to the consumer in their consumption of current and consequently much more profitable to the companies.

"It appears that the rated average life of a tungsten lamp is 1,000 hours and the rated average life of a 50 watt gem lamp, now in very general use for domestic purposes, is 700 hours. Under actual service conditions the comparison is still more favorable to the tungsten lamp. The gem lamp has an efficiency of 2 1/2 watts per candle power, while the efficiency of the tungsten is 11, or less per candle power, so that the light furnished by a 25 watt tungsten lamp is the same as that furnished by a 50 watt gem lamp, and by the use of the tungsten the customer saves one-half of his consumption of current."

"SCHOOL OF PROPHETS" TO BE STARTED IN U. S.

PERSIAN PEACE ADVOCATE AND FAMILY.
FRONT row, left to right—Mrs. Ameen Fareed, Mirza Assad Ullah and Mme. Mirza Assad Ullah. Standing, Dr. Ameen Fareed, son of the peace advocate, and nurse holding his son, Donald Fareed.

Mirza Assad Ullah, Persian peace advocate, who visited the United States as a delegate to the Congress of Religions several years ago, arrived on the steamship St. Louis yesterday to establish in this country a "school of the prophets" for the teaching of the fundamental principles of the ten great religions.

Wearing a long black robe and a white silk turban and accompanied by his wife, similarly garbed, and their grandson, Mr. Assad Ullah went to the Hotel McAlpin. There last night he commended President Wilson's remark about a nation too proud to fight and predicted that a long period of universal tranquillity will follow the present war. In every one of the present belligerent countries prophecies of the world conflict were made long ago, he said.

Mr. Assad Ullah and his family left Palestine soon after the war started and lived in England. His former home at Haifa was damaged a few months ago in a bombardment by an allied fleet. He will go to Washington tomorrow to visit the Persian Embassy.

Mme. Assad Ullah was the first Persian woman of high station to discard the veil. She is an enthusiastic suffragist. It is said that her daughter was the first Persian girl to wed a foreigner. She is the wife of Prof. Sydney Sprague, an American. Mr. Assad Ullah's son, Dr. Ameen U. Fareed, is a graduate of the University of Illinois and Johns Hopkins and now lives in Chicago. He married an American two years ago.

Among the new directors will be Mr.

with the disease, can survive the explosion from his system of the tremendous amount of poison from both serum and the original infection.

The old lawyer was very weak yesterday. His temperature had lowered and the swelling about his neck reduced, but his pulse was faint and erratic, and the dry heaves and courageous statements that marked the first days of his illness had given way to quiet.

Kansas Forest Opened Nov. 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WRIGHTS TRAINING FLIERS FOR CANADA

Pupils in Aviation School Believed to Be Intended for British Army Work.

NEW CO. TO MEET TO-DAY

The Wright Aeroplane Company, which has passed into the hands of a syndicate headed by William B. Thompson, has started a school for aviators in which, it was said yesterday, are thirty Canadians. It was hinted that the Canadians might eventually be sent skimming over the British front in Europe as a part of the British Aviation Corps.

Clark S. Jenkinson, a lawyer who represents Mr. Thompson, made the statement about the Canadians being in the school. He did not know whether they were enlisted in the British army, and the likelihood is that they are not. It is regarded as possible, however, that the men intend to enlist.

The student aviators are working under the supervision of Walter Brookings, one of the first Wright aviators. Brookings was the first American aviator to reach an altitude of a mile and he held that record until it was beaten by other Wright aviators. After being injured twice in accidents he quit flying for a time and has only recently returned to the game.

The fact that the Wright company is so keenly interested in the training of Canadians led persons to suppose that the company is seeking orders for war aeroplanes. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Jenkinson both insisted yesterday that they knew nothing about such orders, but it was admitted that the company has new orders in prospect.

The first meeting of the new owners of the company will be held this morning in the offices of Mr. Thompson, 14 Wall street, to elect directors. Loren Wright, a brother of Orville, is expected to be present to turn over the stock holdings. It was said by Mr. Jenkinson that the new president of the company would be T. Frank Manville of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company. Mr. Manville is essentially a manufacturer and he will devote his energies to the upbuilding of the plant and to getting orders.

Among the new directors will be Mr.

with the disease, can survive the explosion from his system of the tremendous amount of poison from both serum and the original infection.

The old lawyer was very weak yesterday. His temperature had lowered and the swelling about his neck reduced, but his pulse was faint and erratic, and the dry heaves and courageous statements that marked the first days of his illness had given way to quiet.

Kansas Forest Opened Nov. 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson today abolished the Kansas national forest of 138,000 acres. It will be open to entry November 1.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1